The chairman of Senator Matthews' committee has called a meeting for tomorrow.

A treasury circular directs that unsolicited packages of newspapers from foreign countries, not exceeding in weight two pounds three ounces, may be delivered to persons addressed without detention by custom officers.

The president left the capitol this morning at seven and rode immediately to the executive mansion. At 9 he had breakfast and was attending to official duties. There were a great many callers during the forenoon, a majority being congressmen who desired to pay their respects to the president before leaving the city. At 1 the president retired for much-needed rest.

John C. Brown, having sent the secretary of the treasury a sight draft for $27, the amount disbursed for him while on the Louisiana commission, owing to the senate tabling the proposition to provide for payment of expenses, the secretary of the treasury has written to Mr. Brown, saying: "I am desirous by the president to return this draft to you uncollected, as he is of the opinion that congress will yet make provision for this expenditure, and at all events that you ought not to pay any part of it."

GENERAL NEWS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20. Returns from the city as far as counted indicate that the Keeneyites have elected nearly all their candidates, though the contest was close. Returns from the interior show that the non-partisan have elected most of their men and it is probable that the non-partisan majority will be sufficient to elect nearly all their delegates at large, even if this city should give the Keeneyites a fair majority.

MONROVIA, June 20. The democratic state convention organized to-day with Geo. S. Waterhouse, ex-governor, and H. H. Bingham, ex-governor, for president, and J. H. Bingham, ex-governor, for governor, and Geo. E. Royce, of Rutland, for lieutenant.

The resolutions congratulated the country on the election of a non-partisan majority, and the overthrow of the party of corruption. The resolutions also expressed the hope that the non-partisan majority would be sufficient to elect nearly all their delegates at large, even if this city should give the Keeneyites a fair majority.

WASHINGTON, June 20. A letter received this morning, bearing the postmark of Orono, Me., says the question of removing the white settlers from the town of Orono in Carleton county has been settled for the affirmative. The settlers are to be removed to the town of Orono, and the town of Orono is to be a non-partisan town.

Sporting News.

PITTSBURG, June 20. The single scull race between Evan Morris, of this city, and Edward Hanlon, of Toronto, will take place on the Hutton course, 12 miles above this city, at 4:30 this afternoon. Several private bets were made last night at one thousand on Hanlon to eight hundred on Morris.

LATER. The five-mile single scull race between Evan Morris, of this city, and Edward Hanlon, of Toronto, for a purse of $2,000, and the championship of America, was rowed on the Hutton course this afternoon and won by the Canadian by nearly four lengths. An immense crowd of people, estimated at 15,000, witnessed the race, the banks and hills on both sides of the river, being lined with spectators, among whom were many ladies. Excursion trains ran upon both sides of the Allegheny all the afternoon, and toward 5 o'clock the excitement was very great. Pool selling at the course was lively, but not much money was invested. The odds were slightly in favor of Hanlon.

The start which was advertised for 5 o'clock was not made until five minutes after six. Both men appeared in excellent spirits and were greeted with loud cheering as they came in sight. Morris wore white and Hanlon red and blue. It was some minutes before they got into position, but at 6:10 all was ready, the word was given, and the men got down to their work in good style. Hanlon took the lead at starting, and when a half mile from the starting place was still ahead and pulling 34 strokes per minute. Morris now made a vigorous start, and as the men passed out of sight around the head of the river, gradually closing upon his adversary. When the men came in sight of the city, Hanlon was 7 lengths ahead, but before reaching the turning point Morris had gained two lengths and the excitement among the spectators was intense. Morris was then pulling thirty-five strokes to the minute. Hanlon led at the four-mile mark, but as the men came in sight of the city, Morris was 7 lengths ahead, but before reaching the turning point Morris had gained two lengths and the excitement among the spectators was intense. Winnipeg Indian Affairs.

MADISON, Wis., June 20. Gen. Sheridan telegraphed Gov. Smith, discrediting the story as to a compact between the Chippewas and Sioux, but says there may be some truth in it. He has sent Col. Forsythe, of his staff, to Burnett county to investigate matters.

There is a company of United States infantry at Ft. Snelling, which can be used if required. Gov. Smith has ordered Gen. Bryant to accompany Col. Forsythe and report at once the exact condition of affairs.

San Francisco, June 20. The secretary of the treasury has issued a circular calling attention to the 4 per cent. funded loan of the United States, now offered by the department in denominations for coupon bonds of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, and for registered bonds of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. The bonds are redeemable July 1, 1907, and bear interest payable quarterly on first day of January, April, July and October of each year, and are exempt from payment of taxes and duties to the United States, as well as from taxation in any form by or under state, municipal or local authority. Upon receipt of full payment bonds will be transmitted free of charge to subscribers, and a commission of one-fourth of one per cent. will be allowed upon the amount of subscriptions. Coupons will be paid by check only and will not be applied to payment of subscription. All national banks are not invited to become agents of the government, but persons are invited to aid in placing these bonds and can make their own arrangements with the treasury department. The price of the bonds will be $100.00 per $100.00 of face value, and the interest will be paid quarterly.

St. Louis, June 20. The Chicago and North Western railway, after a long and arduous struggle, reported a declaration of bankruptcy. The railway, which has been in operation for many years, has been unable to meet its obligations, and has been forced to declare bankruptcy. The railway has a large number of passengers and freight cars, and is one of the most important railways in the country. The declaration of bankruptcy has caused a great deal of concern among the public, and has led to a great deal of speculation about the future of the railway.

REPUBLICAN CALL.

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN STATE
CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF COLORADO.
DENVER, CO., June 12, 1878.

At a meeting of the Republican State Central committee, held at this place, it was ordered that the State Republican convention be held on the 7th of August, 1878, at Denver, Colorado, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for one governor, one lieutenant governor, one secretary of state, one state treasurer, one auditor of state, one superintendent of public instruction, two regents of the University, one attorney general, and one representative in congress; and transact such other business as may be deemed necessary. The committee fixed the basis of representation in this convention at one delegate for each county, and one delegate for every one hundred votes or fraction thereof exceeding fifty, polled for Governor at the general election in 1876. In accordance with the above the following apportionment for representation was determined upon:

| | | | |
|-------------|----|------------|-----|
| Adams | 23 | Jefferson | 6 |
| Boulder | 16 | Lake | 3 |
| Bent | 4 | Larimer | 5 |
| Chaffee | 5 | La Plata | 2 |
| Cheyenne | 5 | Las Animas | 8 |
| Clear Creek | 13 | Ouray | 4 |
| Cotton | 3 | Park | 6 |
| Douglas | 4 | Pueblo | 6 |
| Elbert | 3 | Rio Grande | 3 |
| El Paso | 8 | Rock | 2 |
| Frontier | 3 | Santa Juan | 4 |
| Gilpin | 11 | Saguache | 4 |
| Grand | 2 | Summit | 3 |
| Gunnison | 2 | Teller | 3 |
| Huerfano | 2 | Weld | 9 |
| Imperial | 5 | Total | 177 |

The committee reported the various counties to make, as soon as practicable, provision for the election of delegates.

J. R. THOMPSON, Secretary.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The majority report of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections has been made against the proposed sixteenth amendment to the constitution, prohibiting the states from disenfranchising women. The committee gives several reasons for this adverse report. The most prominent of these reasons are:

First, that it would give the elective franchise to several millions of voters who are totally inexperienced in political affairs.

Secondly, that only a small number of women, compared with the whole number in this country, ask for the right to vote. The thoroughly organized woman suffrage societies only succeeded in obtaining 30,000 signatures to their petition.

Thirdly, that woman is incapable of performing military duty and unable to enforce obedience to the laws of the state.

Fourth, that it is unnecessary because without the aid of woman's vote, the legislatures in her behalf is improving.

The report also states that certain states are granting the right to vote to women, with good results, and thinks it is better to allow the movement to take its own course rather than have two-thirds of the states compel the other third to allow woman to vote.

The report in the main is very conservative and can be in no way offensive to the petitioners. We do not believe that congress will ever attempt to amend the constitution in this particular until it is convinced that women generally desire the privilege. The popular sentiment of ten years ago which proclaimed the right of every citizen to vote is not so strong now. Good liberal-minded citizens think that the right to vote should be limited instead of extended. However that may be, we confess that it seems unwise to bestow a privilege which is not asked for and which may not be used.

It seems to us that the wisest course is to interest women in this subject, and then, if they care enough for the privilege of voting to ask for it, grant it to them. At present no gross injustice is done by withholding the ballot from women, and a great mistake might be made by granting it.

MR. WOOD'S TARIFF BILL.

We have just received a copy of Hon. Fernando Wood's speech of June 4 in reply to attacks upon the tariff bill. In this speech Mr. Wood especially paid his respects to the speech of W. D. Kelly, which he completely riddled. Mr. Wood charges that Mr. Kelly's speech attacking the bill was unfair and claims that the "quotation he (Kelly) made from the speech was garbled and the bill he criticised was not the bill reported and now before the committee, and neither the speech nor the bill were quoted correctly nor stated fairly." These charges Mr. Wood fully substantiates. Probably no tariff bill presented by a majority report of the committee on ways and means has ever received the vigorous opposition and weak support which Mr. Wood's bill has received. The speech of Mr. Wood on June 4 in part explains the reason of this. Of course a tariff bill proposed for revenue rather than protection would receive the opposition of the protectionists, but the only successful lukewarm support from pronounced free-traders in regard to the inconsistencies which caused this violent opposition and lukewarm support, Mr. Wood says:

The bill has been attacked for its apparent incongruities in quarters which are responsible for them if they exist. It was the persevering but jesuitical efforts of some of the men who now oppose it that induced the committee, against my vote and wishes, to incorporate rates and duties on some articles which were inconsistent with its general tenor and objects. Hence the alleged incongruities, if any, and seeming inconsistencies. Some of the gentlemen who have made elaborate addresses against the bill are more responsible for these defects if they exist than any other members of the committee. They caused to be incorporated several amendments utterly irreconcilable with the true spirit of revenue reform. As members of the committee they had opportunities which they did not let pass of taking good care of certain special interests, which they regarded of more importance to themselves. The only errors in the bill have been caused by the concessions which were made to those who now prove to be its enemies. A mistaken policy of conciliation with the monster of protection has been the chief mistake that was committed in the drafting of the bill.

Under the circumstances above mentioned, we can readily account for many of the incongruities in the bill which was presented to the house.

It seems to us that the house has been guilty of grave neglect in not giving more consideration to our revenue laws. The protectionists on the committee of ways and means resolved that no amendment should be made to our revenue system. Apparently they think it perfect, or they would have made a minority report.

Though we think a purely revenue tariff going into effect instantly would be dangerous to some of the industries of the country, yet we believe that there is vital need of sweeping changes in our present tariff system. Our tariff laws at present embrace 3,172 articles which must be examined by our revenue officers. On many of these articles we collect but little duty and they simply render more cumbersome our machinery for collecting the revenue.

The revenue laws are too ambiguous and complex. We have specific and valorem, and specific and valorem duties. On account of this there are nearly 3,000 cases now pending in the United States circuit court of New York city arising from our tariff laws. These laws are not only involving the United States in endless litigation and troubling our officers in collecting the revenue, but they are also interfering seriously with our commerce.

Another fault of our revenue is that the duties are largely collected from the necessities of life instead of the luxuries. They tax too highly the poor and too lightly the rich. We do not say this to join in the demagogue's cry, but we believe that our taxes should as largely as possible be collected from the luxuries of life.

If we were to go into details we might mention several other powerful objections to our present tariff system. We regret that congress did not do something. We are sure that they could have taken no action which would have made our revenue system more cumbersome and unjust. Mr. Wood promises that he will not allow the subject to rest, but as the next session of congress will be short there can hardly be a full consideration of the subject until the meeting of the next congress in 1879.

Fourth of July.

The national board of fire underwriters have been considering the question "Does pyrotechnic patriotism pay," and have decided in the negative. Last year the board sent out circulars to the press before the Fourth of July, which stated the loss from fires and other casualties, which resulted the year before directly from the use of fireworks on or about the Fourth of July. These circulars drew attention to the dangers and induced many towns to adopt precautions which materially reduced the number of accidents which are usually incident to that festive day.

The following statistics were gathered by the board as a result of last year's celebration:

|--|-----------|
| Number of cities and towns making returns | 2,950 |
| Number of cities and towns reporting alarms caused by fireworks and fire crackers during the month of July, 1877 | 126 |
| Number of alarms reported caused by fireworks and fire crackers on the 3d and 4th of July, 1877 | 120 |
| Number of alarms reported caused by fireworks and fire crackers during the rest of the month | 303 |
| Number of cities and towns reporting fires caused by fireworks and fire crackers during the month of July, 1877 | 130 |
| Number of fires reported caused by fireworks and fire crackers on the 3d and 4th of July, 1877 | 113 |
| Number of fires reported caused by fireworks and fire crackers during the rest of the month | 174 |
| Amount damage to property reported caused by fires caused by fireworks and fire crackers on 3d and 4th of July, 1877 | $99,870 |
| Amount damage to property reported caused by fires caused by fireworks and fire crackers during rest of month | $161,747 |
| Number of cities and towns reporting casualties caused by fireworks and fire crackers during the month of July, 1877 | 175 |

Number of fatal casualties caused by fireworks and fire crackers during the month of July, 1877
Number of serious casualties reported caused by fireworks and fire crackers during the month of July, 1877
Number of slight casualties reported caused by fireworks and fire crackers during the month of July, 1877
The manner of celebrating our national birthday is becoming less dangerous and more enjoyable. Several of the larger cities now use extensive bunting decorations, and thus honor the day. We think this is a good idea. The national holidays in Italy are celebrated in this way, and we know nothing more likely to inspire enthusiasm than a tastefully and profusely adorned street or building.

As yet we have heard of no arrangements being made in this city for the celebration of the Fourth. Many cities are making extensive preparations and Colorado Springs should not be behind them. The future capital of the state should lead on such occasions. We would suggest, in place of something better, that we have a temperance or Sunday-school picnic at one of our canons. We understand that the blue ribbon organization numbers over 500 and the united Sunday-schools have over 650 members, so that a picnic of either organization would be an imposing affair.

S. M. Sanders has lately received a "box" which will be under the management of Mr. N. W. Robbins. It will be the National agent and also a transfer "box".

As excursion to Alamosa on the 30th of July is being contemplated, providing two hundred will go, the tickets will be placed at five dollars each, with the privilege of returning on the 31st. We will make further statements to-morrow.

A Pueblo excursion party, numbering some two hundred and fifty, reached the city at 8:30 yesterday morning. At least one-fourth of the number left the train at arrival here, the balance of the party going to Monument Park where they picnicked during the day.

Wooden Wedding.

A few of the many friends of Dr. and Mrs. Reynolds gave them a very agreeable and pleasant surprise last Wednesday evening on the fifth anniversary of their wedding. They very properly concluded that they "wood" never have a better opportunity to bestow some slight testimonial of their esteem and regard than on this occasion of their wooden wedding. By arrangement a party of some twenty ladies and gentlemen met at 8 p. m. at Dr. Reynolds' office and advanced on horse, upon the residence of the doctor, well provided with a beautiful supply of the essential evidences of hospitality in the way of cake, ice cream, etc. The guests of the party presented the doctor with an elegant gold-headed cane, and the ladies presented Mrs. Reynolds a carpet, a brooch and several other useful and beautiful presents appropriate to the occasion. Mr. Adams read a highly humorous and original presentation speech, that so overcame the doctor that he was hardly able to support himself, even with the cane, and was obliged to pass over the response to his best man, Mayor McAllister, who did it up so gracefully that at the close there was not a dry eye in the house.

Mr. Jackson also made some very pointed and telling remarks, that brought down the new-come in a most timely and appropriate manner. Mrs. Reynolds responded on the part of Mrs. Reynolds, after which the evening was given to the enjoyment of a thoroughly social good time. We shall anticipate our wedding anniversary with great pleasure, since gold-headed canes have taken the place of torpedoes in way of remembrance.

FIRST IN THE FIELD.

Grand Rally to Drive Foreign Elements.

A party of about twenty ladies and gentlemen under the direct leadership of Capt. J. S. Brown of Syracuse, N. Y., leave this morning via the Burlington line for Cheyenne, Idaho, to enjoy a day of recreation, fishing and scenery in that delightful resort. This will undoubtedly add another to the already numerous "Greatest Shows on Earth," and what will be especially welcome news to our citizens, including of course the strangers within our gates, tourists, invalids, and the small boy, who will escape the maternal blipper for playing hockey on such an occasion, is the fact that the grand and novel pageant will be exhibited free of charge. A baggage wagon will be provided for transporting the banners and bodes of communitarian stores that will be placed under the immediate charge of Chief Butler, Barnes. The bureau line will form at precisely 1 o'clock in front of the residence of Dr. Reynolds, on Tejon street, the right resting on the grand square and the left wing along the irrigating ditch. Ample safeguards have been provided against accident in the somewhat hazardous and delicate experiment of lifting the most fragile and sensitive portion of the freight into the side saddles preparatory to the grand start. This part of the programme has been entrusted to several gentlemen who will be officially recognized by the fair freight, by their wearing upon the left lapels of their claw hammers a large rose bud.

A large force of the police have been detailed to act in concert with the string band and the new military company, to preserve order on the line of march. Should this novel picnic enterprise prove a success, of which there is little doubt, it will not only afford another attractive feature to the varied and pleasurable excitements of the "Saratoga" of the West, but reflect new honors and add new laurels to the brow of its enterprising projector.

Stolen Horse Recovered.

About three weeks ago a boy drove into the stable of William & Goodrich in this city, with a horse and carriage, which he said a man, who had gone off on the train, had asked him to bring there, saying that he was going to Denver and would return for it in two or three days. Nothing was seen of the man and the horse remained in the stable during the week. The proprietors of the stable, upon the day yesterday, a young man visited the stable and after making inquiries asked to see the horse, which he immediately identified as belonging to his father, Robert Nussbaum, a livery man of Pueblo, from whom it had been stolen. Mr. Nussbaum was notified of the discovery and will probably send for the horse and carriage today. It is quite evident that the party who stole the outfit became frightened at the probability of arrest, and disposed of the horse as above stated.

FROM SAN JUAN.

EUREKA, SAN JUAN CO., June 15, 1918.

To the Editor of the Gazette:—All is lively on the Animas now, with every prospect of increasing activity as the summer advances. Our hopes in regard to the advance which would likely be made during the present year in the way of development of mines, erection of works for the reduction of ores, and towards the settlement of the country with permanent residents are likely to be more than realized.

Every day or two we hear of men of wealth who have come to see or establish themselves among us, and all are pleased and find their expectations more than realized in the advantages offered to all who have money to invest. We hear of smelters and reduction works to be erected or begun this year, in every direction.

The Crook Bros. of New York, who now have extensive works at Lake City, have decided to erect a smelter at the mouth of Animas, about 25 miles above Silverton. This is mainly designed for the treatment of the ores of the North Star mine, of which they are part owners.

A smelter is to be erected at Howardsville, but by whom I failed to learn. This may be by parties mentioned in my last as the purchasers of the Pride of the West mine.

The Lurella reduction company are pushing ahead vigorously. They say they will begin operation before winter sets in. Capt. J. S. Brown succeeded in forming a company with a capital stock of $100,000, in Kansas during the past winter, for the working of the Tom Moore mine, is expected with several members of the company daily. They come to examine the property before completing the organization. Of their intentions, I have all a young satisfactory, nothing has yet been divulged.

There are several wealthy companies interested in mines in the vicinity of Animas Forks. It is reported that one of these are about commencing the erection of works at that place, but nothing definite is yet known. The work of development of mines is being more vigorously and extensively pushed there than in any other portion of the San Juan region. Animas Forks will soon be an important point.

A sawmill is now being erected by Brown, Woodbury & Garrison, of Animas Forks, one mile below that place. They have already several large orders for lumber.

Smythe, Dawson & Peterson, who have been residents of this country for some years, and have valuable mines in and near Burns' gulch, two miles above this place, are erecting an aqueduct on the river at that point. Smythe is experienced in the manipulation of ores, and is confident of success.

A brickmaker at Howardsville has orders for over 400,000 bricks. One hundred and forty thousand of these are for the reduction works being built at this place.

Silverton is more lively and prosperous than ever before. It will make more rapid growth this year. The weather is fine, and the snow fast disappearing from the mountains. In consequence, the river is at flood stage.
